

Dreams Come True

In a small neighborhood lived a young girl named Kylie who belonged to an unprivileged family. The neighborhood consisted mostly of the workers who worked in a renowned chemical factory or the local farmers. Kylie's family on the contrary did not have any particular background similar to those in the area. Her parents owned a small bakery shop in the area trying to make both the ends meet. Her mom would make the best breads and apple pie which was very famous amongst the people. Kylie went to the area school which had the children from influential families as well who would have the best of the clothes, shoes, accessories and snacks to eat. Kylie was known for her simplicity and a basic lifestyle, she was not influenced by these gaudy and fancy things. She was rather a studios girl whose focus was to achieve the best of her career to gain a bright future for herself and her parents. Her simple and hardworking nature was not much liked amongst her classmates, who would rather make fun of her or tease her. One of her classmate named, Anna, was always unkind towards Kylie. Since, Anna was quite popular amongst her friends, many other following her would be unpleasant to Kylie. She was avoided by her friends who thought Kylie has no purpose in life rather than just being in her books. On the other hand, Kylie was the most adored student amongst her teachers. The staff always spoke high of her.

Every day Kylie would go help her parents at the bakery in the evening. Kylie was a very hardworking and smart girl who always got good grades. Anna disliked the fact that Kylie was a great student and would look for ways to discourage her along with other friends in her school who would tease her saying "What are you going to get from this? Do you really think you can be successful like us with studying all day?" Kylie being kind in nature always smiled back and answered politely that she really wants to achieve her dream of being a successful Doctor and be helpful for the community. This gave Anna and friends another opportunity to mock Kylie. Anna would never make Kylie feel happy and none of her friends would support her because she couldn't afford the nicer things in life. Kylie felt upset like she would never be able to achieve her dream or have real friends.

When Kylie went to help her parents at the bakery it was busy as usual but Kylie kept thinking about what her friends had been saying to her. Kylie lived a tough childhood but Kylie forgets about the things she does not have and focuses on the things she does have. Kylie's mom always tells her that "If we worry and focus on the things we don't have then we won't be grateful for the things we do have." When Kylie saw all the nice things her friends had she always wanted those things but remembered what her mom would tell her.

After a few years when Kylie finished her school, she was qualified to get an admission in one of the best medical colleges in another city. This was the happiest day of their lives as her hard work paid off and she could finally be a Doctor as she wanted to. Sometime later it was time for Kylie to leave and she was excited but sad too to leave her hometown and her parents. Kylie started college and gradually began to settle well and being a smart student as always started scoring high grades here too. Her belief to achieve her dream started getting stronger slowly. She worked hard.

Couple of years later she completes her education and gets placed into a good hospital. While she was on her duty, she sees a girl with a man who was ill and was requesting to get him checked, but did not have insurance to cover the expenses. They had been sent back from other hospitals and her dad was suffering. Seeing the situation, Kylie requests the staff to get him admitted and shares that she can accommodate them in a special fund program and support the expense. Kylie checked the patient and took great care which helped the man to get better. Then finally he recovered and the girl and father wanted to thank Kylie for her kindness. The girl was trying to figure out who the nice doctor was and she recognized it was Kylie, the girl she ridiculed at school. Anna felt embarrassed and realized her mistake of mistreating anyone, laughing out on them for not being privileged as time doesn't stay the same always. Anna quickly apologized to Kylie for the hurtful things she said and did to her all those years, and regretted had she any dream and worked hard to achieve something on her own like Kylie so she and her dad would not have been suffering today, rather she would have been able to do something for him.

Kylie forgave Anna and reminded her that time is essence and if you follow your dreams with all the positivity and hope then you will be successful in achieving them. Anna had finally learned her lesson and knew to always treat others with respect and one should have a Dream in life and the Belief to fulfil it will always keep the Hope alive!

Kylie's Dreams found its Destiny with her hard work, if she had fell for the insensitive words and gotten disheartened, she wouldn't be a Doctor as she had dreamed of.
