

The Roller Coaster In Animal Kingdom

Once upon a time at Animal Kingdom, there were two people named Jin and Shutong. When they got there, they saw a big roller coaster, they wanted to go on it so they got in line. When they got on the roller coaster, it started going up, and then to make it scary they wanted to pretend it was broken by a really strong ape so then the roller coaster went backwards so quick. I felt like it was going in a flash. Then it came to the scary part, woo, it went really quick three times without stopping. When it was over, I never wanted to go on one except if it isn't too scary.
