

EPIC Ninja Break-in!

Meet Bob the ninja. Boss ninja called him to his office. Bob opens the door to his office, he sees Boss ninja sitting in his big spinny chair. "Take a seat" he says to him. Bob takes a seat. Boss ninja continues "I have a mission for you." "Cool" Bob responds "I haven't had a mission in a while, so what do you want me to do?" "The bad ninjas have stolen our epic ninja cristel!" Boss ninja says. "I want you to retrieve it."

Bob goes to the bad ninja base. The wall around it is fifty feet thick. Bob digs under it using his Epic Ninja digging power. He was in the base, all he has to do now is not be seen by the guards. So he goes to the one place with no guards, the vent. He crawls in the vent and uses his epic ninja x-ray vision to navigate the vent until he gets to the room with the epic ninja cristel.

He could see the epic ninja cristel. It was more epic than he could ever imagine. He reached for it, but the bad ninja leader (Sam) dropped in front of him. "Ha ha ha" he said. "Did you really think that you could get the epic ninja cristel that easily?" "Ya I did." Bob responded. "Why is that?" Sam asked. "I'm very good at rock, paper, scissors" (playing rock, paper, scissors is how ninjas fight.) "Alright then best of three, if you win you get the epic ninja cristel, but if I win you have to join the bad ninjas." Sam said. Bob responded with a "deal."

For round one Bob had scissors, and Sam had rock. "Take that!" Sam said. For round two Bob had paper, and Sam had rock. "Take that!" Bob said. Now here's what it has all come down to: Bob had rock and Sam had scissors! "I won!" Bob said. He took the epic ninja cristel and gave it to Boss ninja.
